Swords into plow shares and spears into pruning hooks—the prophecy that has brooked centuries of war and held out hope to a world thirsting for peace may yet abundantly vindicate the faith of men, for we read that in Dark Russia, sometimes called the sleeping giant of Europe by an abetting press, the Soviet will sell the Crown Jewels of the Czarist dynasties to buy Amercian plows for the peasants.

Any country or civilization that lives close to the plow handles will have little or no use for Crown Jewels and certainly none for a Czar. This collection of gems touches many periods of European history and may be said to have been purchased by Russia's former tyrants with the toil of a crushed peasantry. Now the Soviet is to give them back to the peasants in the shape of industrial machinery or implements with which to till the soil. The glitter of 25,000 carats will be translated into the glitter of American steel—plowshears with which to furrow a nation's life away lie waiting for a buyer. Their day for regal grandeur is done. The once powerful pageant of Russia's royal reign is no more. The tyrants who oppressed the people contributed nothing more enduring than did the idol in Cochin China from the forehead of which the French soldier pried with bayonet the famous Orloff diamond.

Now we are to have an old fiddler's contest March 12. The folks who still believe in Santa Claus and family prayer are thrilled at the prospect of the return engagement of a forgotten melody.

Feet that once upon a time performed the double shuffl on the pine floor upon a time performed the double shuffle on the pine floor cabins of the pioneers or tripped the minuet in the elite ball rooms of the sixties will again shuffle in to action, for we are told that an old fashioned square dance will follow the contest. Adjutant Perkins of the Legion says the dance will be no place for Jelly beans and flappers. Fiddles will take the place of jazz bands. Those who have lived to tell of the decadence that brought to us "Yes, sir, that's my Baby," are more than pleased at the prospect of again hearing, "Leather Breeches," and "Hell Among the Yearlings". The hammer and tong, hot lipped, staggering conquest of 1926 will give away for a night. We will live over again the good old days when dancing was an art, men were men and fiddles were fiddles.

Considerable attention is being accorded by the press to the failure of car owners in large numbers throughout the state to register their cars and pay the tax. It is not unlikely that each year abuses of this kind are tolerated both because of apathy on the part of the people toward the payment of public obligations as well as a lack of vigorous administration of the law by those in authority. Car owners who use the public highways should be more prompt about the payment of their license tax than any other of the several public obligations. In Milam county an unusually large per cent of car owners have failed to pay the license tax for 1926. For the sake of our roads as well as the need fo r an equal distribution of tax payments there should follow a demand for payment of all auto taxes now due the county.

Larger Stock For 1926 Business Is Proof of Demands

C. N. Green and Brothers store has purchased a large consignment of rugs for the furniture store.

The Green Brothers store, the oldest grocery store in Cameron and one of the oldest firms in the city, despite the drought conditions last year showed an increase over the previous year. Mr. Green confidently expects an increase this year and the volume so far is meeting all expectations.

The Green Brothers firm make liberal use of the colums of Cameron newspapers for advertising goods. In practically every issue the firm is telling the people of its wares and of the special prices that obtain there at all times.

NEW BRIDGE ACROSS RIVER TO OPEN ON MARCH 10

LOAN COMPANIES ARE REVERSED IN COURT OF GIVIL APPEALS IN INTEREST RATE CONTROVERSY

Old Fiddlers Tune up for Contest Here March 12

NEW ROADWAY WILL BE OPEN IN FLOOD TIME

HAS TWO MILES STEEL TREAD AND 3000 FEET TRESTLE AND APPROACH

The new steel and concrete bridge across Little River under construction for the past twelve months is expected to be completed and open for traffic about March 10. The bridge is one of the finest erected anywhere in the state during the past two years. The total cost of this bridge is about $140,000. It is a part of a road and bridge project for which $100,000 in bonds were voted by the district and $136,000 in Federal and state aid. The total cost of the projects will amount to about $236,000. An old bridge a short distance up stream will be dismantled. This old bridge was built in 1883.

The new bridge is a two way traffic bridge with steel tracks, and is supported by trestles and grades across the bottom so that under ordinary overflow conditions traffic will not be interrupted. The structure is supported by near 300 feet of trestle and approaches. There was used 369,000 feet of creosoted lumber and 207,000 pounds of structural steel for the span.

In the construction of the new bridge and the trestles, approaches and roadway through the bottom and east of the bridge the following items and quantities of material were used:

16,255 cubic feet of borrow excavation.

13,417 cubic yards roadway excavation.

759 cubic yards dry structural excavation.

3,417 cubic yards overhead excavation.

960 feet wooden guard fence.

37,233 ponds deformed steel bars for reinforcing concrete.

207,000 pounds of plain structural steel for bridge.

76 cubic yards class B concrete.

12,345 lineal feet of piling.

1164 cubic yards rock fill in bottom.

369,208 feet crosoted lumber.

10,812 lineal feet steel runner for trestle and approaches to bridge.

570 cubic yards wet structural excavation.

The old McCown Bridge is to be dismanted and parts of it used in other sections of the county. This bridge was built in 1883.

The new bridge was erected by Thomas and Ratliff, J. E. Thomas in active charge. A. F. Mitchell, county engineer, and W. D. Bigbee assistant, represented the county.

The name plate will show the names of the engineer, County Judge Kemp, commissioners and Miss Lilian Atkinson, county clerk.

New Income Tax Law Exempts Many From Making Out Returns.

Fred B. Cable, cashier of the First National Bank, has received the following notification from the First Texas District of the Internal Revenue Department with headquarters at Waco, that G. G. Yates will be here on March 1 and 2 to assist citizens to file their returns:

Will Invite Cotton Mill Man to Cameron

Mr. Felton, owner of the cotton mill at Belton, has been asked to speak to the business men at Cameron next Monday night at the commercial club meeting about prospects for a cotton mill in Cameron.

The mill at Cuero has been recently enlarged. It is said stock to the amount of $250,000 or $500,000 will be subscribed by these interests for a mill at Cameron.

F. B. Cable is chairman of the committee on industry for the club and will have charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

JUST FIDDLIN'.

Here are some of the tunes you will hear at the Legion fiddler's contest here on March 12: Jig dancing has been added and a number of entries have been announced:

Turkey in the Straw	Cotton Eyed Joe
Waggoner	Run Nigger, Run
Billy in the Low Ground	Sugar in Your Coffee
Leather Breeches	Uncle Joe
Devil's Dream	Arkansas Traveler
Black Eyed Susie	Rabbit in the Pea Patch
Over the Waves	Hell Among the Yearlings.

J. L. Clinton in charge of the program says that some variation from this will be necessary, each fiddler being at liberty to select and play his own tune.

Judge Jeff T. Kemp with whom entrants are requested to file names will no doubt have a large number.

Ben McLellan, D. R. Criswell, J. S. Barmore, T. F. Hardy and Judge Jeff T. Kemp are to be judges and to this committee will fall largely the arrangement of the entertainment.

L. Van Perkins is in charge of the committee from the Legion and reports a large number of fiddlers. It has been decided, on application of a number who want to participate that jig dancing be added. Uncle Sam Murray will challenge the world. He has already started to limber up his legs for the old fashioned clog and believes he will carry away the money. The jig dancing will be restricted to old men.

This will be no place for jelly beans, cake eaters or flappers, says Perkins for the Legion. On the streets after the contest an old time square dance will be held. It will be an affair to entice the feet of those who danced when the double shuffle was an art and a thing of beauty and melody flowed from fiddle strings in the cabins of the pioneers.

LOAN COMPANIES GET A STAGGERING BLOW

COURT DECISION AFFECTS LOANS THROUGHOUT STATE USURY IS CHARGE

The court of civil appeals at Austin last Wednesday rendered a very important decision affecting the Dallas Trust and Savings Bank in a case from Milam County.

Some years ago, the Dallas Trust and Savings Bank made a loan on land in Milam County and separated the loan into two series of notes, the main notes bearing 7 per cent interest, and the subsidiary or second lien notes purporting to be for an additional amount of interest, but maturing in one-half the time of the original notes.

The interest was collected for three years, thereby collecting more than 10 per cent per annum for the three years for which the interest had been collected, the main loan running for ten years.

Suit was brought by J. C. Brashear against the Dallas Trust and Savings Bank, the United States Bond and Mortgage Company and the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, each and all of whom had held the notes between them and each had collected interest, one concern for each year. Brashear recovered judgment in the District Court of Milam County for double the entire amount of money that he had paid as interest, and the court of civil appeals, acting upon a decision of the supreme court rendered one week before, affirmed the judgement and held that the collection of the interest made the loan a usurious one and in violation of the usury laws of the state, and that under such circumstances, the person paying the interest was entitled to recover from the person receiving the interest, double the entire amount of the interest which had been paid.

The judgment settles a point which has been contended for by Brashear's lawyer for many years, and is of far reaching importance, secondary only to the celebrated Archer county case. Many loan and mortgage companies doing business in Milam County and throughout the state will be affected by this decision, and probably many of them called to account for their violation of the law.

Mr. Brashear was represented by Hon. W. A. Morrison of Cameron. A similar case to the Archer county case in which road bonds were held invalid, was carried to the supreme court of the state several years ago by Mr. Morrison. His contentions at that time were the same as given by the United States Supreme court in rendering the bonds invalid.

GOOD RESULTS OBTAINED FROM HIGHWAY MONEY

50 MILES OF HIGHWAY REPAIRED WITH $17,500 FROM DEPARTMENT

All records of economical expenditure of highway money are believed to have been broken with the report of Giles L. Avriett, county auditor that the $17,500 awarded by the department for resurfacing of roads has been applied.

Mr. Avriett in his skilled application of these funds has given first class resurfacing and repairs on 50 miles of highway distributed on the Milano, Rockdale and Port Sullivan roads. Some of the best resurfacing work ever seen in the county has been completed on the Milano road.

The road from Cameron leading to Maysfield has received some splendid work and Mr. Avriett is to be congratulated on the manner in which he has handled this business.

J. FRANK NORFLEET IN CAMERON SAYS HE IS PREPARING FOR SCREEN VERSION OF EXPLOITS

The screen is calling J. Frank Norfleet, the Hale Center ranchman who buckled on his shooting irons and went after the Joe Furey gang of swindlers and whose remarkable three year man hunt culminated in one of the most successful exploits known to criminal history in America.

J. Frank Norfleet was a visitor in Cameron Monday night. He was on his way to Houston in connection with some business matters pertaining to the proposed screening of his book a scenario for which has been written. With him was Frank White of Fort Worth who wrote the book "Norfleet."

Mr. Norfleet is 65 years of age. His birthday is on Tuesday, February 23. He is distributing his book and in this way is recuperating his fortune lost to the confidence men who took $40,000 from him in a stock exchange fake in Fort Worth several years ago.

Mr. Norfleet's man hunt attracted attention throughout America and led him to two foreign countries. He ran down the entire gang and in his rounds was instrumental in placing behind the walls a large number of men, one a bank president and a sheriff in California.

Already his book has had a wide circulation in Texas, some 20,000 copies having been sold. The book, while not circulated widely in the north and east is being read there to some extent. Recently he said, John W. Davis, late democratic nominee for President, had purchased several copies.

The picture to be produced will in all probability feature Mr. Norfleet and this new experience is approached by him with interest.

"The Reliable For A Quarter Century"

Being questioned daily about the proper method of feeding cotton seed hulls and meal to horses and mules, I will recite my own personal experience for the past 18 years, and I give below the formula I am using with perfect results. Of course the amount of hulls, meal and roughage fed will be governed to a certain extent by the size of the animal fed, as a 1100 or 1200 pound mule would consume more than an 800 or 900 pound mule. Taking 1000 pounds as a basis of the mules to be fed, I would advise the following:

14 pounds of good cotton seed hulls
3 pounds of 43 per cent cotton seed meal
2 gallons of good oats
10 pounds roughage

This makes a good strong feed for one mule per day. Feeding the above at night, there will probably be a little left in the trough in the morning, which can be utilized for the noon feed by refreshing with the addition of 1-2 pound meal and 1-2 gallon oats to the mule. I have fed hulls and meal in the above proportion for almost 20 years and have never had anything but good results from the feed—no animals with the heaves and have had only 3 mules to go blind in that number of years, which is a very low per cent in the number of animals worked, and which I attribute to overwork in the summer. My losses from sickness during that time that I have fed hulls and meal has been less than 2 per cent a year. I consider hulls and meal the very best feed for working mules and the cheapest, and would not go back to the old way of feeding under any circumstances.

THE BANKER-EDUCATOR PLAN TO PROMOTE BETTER AGRICULTURE

By D. H. OTIS,
Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

Whenever bankers desire to promote actively agricultural improvement in their communities, the state agricultural colleges stand ready to show them the way and to give expert assistance. The purpose of this article is to illustrate the way in which the colleges are getting in contact with the banks, and the kind of assistance they render.

D. H. Otis

As soon as the college has a list of the banks in the state desiring to adopt plans to aid agriculture as indicated by project blanks sent out to all the banks in the state, by the State Bankers Association Agricultural Committee, it gives practical suggestions to each banker on the list as to what he can do to stimulate, organize, and conduct the work in the particular project he has selected. Then either a department specialist from the college or the county agent gets in personal touch with the banker to assist him in an advisory capacity.

Samples of the project outlines are given below to illustrate the details of the procedure the college takes in accomplishing its plan.

College Provides Expert Advisers

In counties with no county agent a list of the banks desiring to carry on a project is sent to a specialist at the state college, according to the project listed. For instance, the banks desiring to carry on the farm accounts project are assigned to the farm management specialist, those desiring to carry on the legume project to the agronomy specialist, those interested in boys' and girls' club work to the junior extension specialist, and so forth.

In counties that do have a county agent a list of the banks and the projects in which each is interested is sent to him with a request that he get in touch with the bankers and help them in regard to the various projects.

The next step by the college is to write to each banker on the list sending him project outlines and informing him that the county agent or a specialist from the college will get in touch with him. If there is no agent in the county this letter reads as follows:

Union State Bank,
Bankville.

Gentlemen—You will find enclosed a brief outline of the farm accounts project in which you have indicated your interest to your State Agricultural Committee and to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association.

I am sure that the specialist from the agricultural college will be pleased to assist you in carrying out the suggestions indicated. We have asked him to get in touch with you.

Director, Agricultural Extension.

The letter to bankers in counties that do have a county agent informs them that he will get in touch with them.

Suggests Things the Banker Can Do

The project outlines sent to each banker give specific suggestions as to the things he can do to organize the work in his project, and the part he can take in carrying out the work. The more simple and concrete these suggestions are the more valuable they are to the banker. Following are samples of such project outlines:

Farm Accounts Project

1. Banker can select group of farmers who can and should undertake the work of farm accounts.
2. Arrange with county agent or specialist from agricultural college for first meeting of the group and select an account book.
3. Assist individuals at their request with information relative to entering accounts and other data properly.
4. Act as or select leader for the group.
5. Assist in checking inventories as a means of securing individual financial statement at close of the year.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work

1. The banker can arrange with the county agent or the specialist of the agricultural college for organizing a club.
2. Plan to present various types of club work at the next meeting and perfect the organization of a local club.
3. Banker may act as local leader of the club.
4. Cooperate with county agent or specialist in annual "Achievement Day."
5. Banker may offer prizes for club work or otherwise assist in financing same.

Legume Project

1. The banker can get information from county agent or specialist from the agricultural college on the value of alfalfa, soy bean, or sweet clover crops to farmers of the community.
2. Arrange for meeting of interested farmers with county agent or specialist.
3. At this meeting county agents, specialists, or others will discuss:
   (a) Value of crop.
   (b) Seed supply and varieties.
   (c) Methods of handling the crop.
   (d) Use and disposition of crop.
4. Plan with county agent or specialist meetings and demonstrations on plots or fields.
5. Secure exhibits for community or county fair.

Cow Testing Associations

1. The banker can arrange with county agent or specialist from agricultural college for meeting of interested group of farmers in the community for the purpose of organizing a cow testing association.
2. Banker may act as leader, and with county agent or specialist plan to visit prospective farmers who may join the association.
3. Organize for work and assist in securing testing equipment and other materials whenever necessary.
4. Call meetings periodically to discuss association business and hold picnics or tours.
5. Banker with county agent or specialist may arrange for C. T. A. booth at community or county fair giving testing demonstrations and explaining work of association.

This constitutes the preliminary work by the college which paves the way for constructive work by the bankers in banker-farmer projects.

Officer Shoots From Chevrolet To Show Absence Of Vibration

Present day officers must be trained to shoot from the wheel as well as from the hip.

Police officer H. W. Holman, 1925 champion revolver shot of the Los Angeles Police Department, recently demonstrated the absence of vibration in the modern automobile by drilling six bullets through the bulls eye of a regulation target while shooting from his car with the motor running at full throttle.

Officer Holman made perfect target groups while shooting from the front seat, while sitting astride the car hood and while using the front fender as a rest for his pistol arm.

The car used was a Chevrolet touring model which Holman purchased recently. The unique target practice was held at the police revolver range in Griffith Park, Los Angeles. The marksman observed all of the rules governing regular practice except that he shot from the automobile.

STUDY COURSE

Every evening this week except Saturday evening a class will meet at the church to study one of the books prescribed by the Sunday School Board for teachers and officers. The Class will meet at 7:30 and will continue for only one hour.

It is hoped that every teacher and officer in the Sunday School will take this course. It is open to any one who wishes to take it and no doubt many who are not teachers nor officers in the school will take the Course. Many have already intimated their intention of taking it.

This course will be a study in the Old Testament. The book is written by Dr. J. B. Tidwell, and he is recognized as one of the truly scholarly men of today and with his scholarship he is a devout believer in the Bible and accepts its teachings without question. He is practical, hence we may except this course to be very helpful.

We are pilgrims journeying to a land from whence none returns. The Bible is our guide Book. Lets come together to study the Book so that we may make our journey safely and with as few errors as possible. "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

HOME BOARD CUTS OFF 200 MISSIONARIES

AS a result of the decrease in receipts which the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention has experienced for the last few years it is now employing 200 fewer missionaries than it was three years ago, says Dr. B. D. Ray, secretary. This decrease had to be made in spite of the fact that there are 13,000,000 unsaved persons ten years of age and over in the South who are not Christians and need the Gospel which Southern Baptists possess.

97 1-2 CENTS FOR SELF; 2 1-2 CENTS FOR GOD

Investigation of last year's contributions by Southern Baptists to all causes, local and general, reveals the fact that out of every dollar our people spent 97 1-2 cents upon themselves and only 2 1-2 cents for all Baptist enterprises, local and general. What if our people had given ten cents out of every dollar, the minimum contribution recognized by the Bible, to our Baptist work? This would have brought into our Baptist treasury $149, 538, 458. 64, a sum sufficient to adequately provide for the local work of all our churches and all our denominational enterprises as well.

PUBLISHING THE SUNDAY SCHOOL RECORDS

In a short time we will begin publishing the records of the Sunday School. Two years ago when we were doing our best work we were publishing each week the record of each class and thereby stimulated the interest to the extent that we went from an average attendance of 176 to an average attendance of 300.

Possibly we will start next week publishing the records of the general officers and teachers and the class records. All of us do just a little better when we know the public is going to see what we do. So lets get ready for good reports. The individual grades will be featured, class grades will be made public. Class attendance, offerings and grades, etc. will be published. You are in the place in the school that you are, because the church believes in you and believes that you will do the work required at that parplace.

GOSPEL SPREADS DESPITE OBSTACLES

Despite revolution, Bolshevistic propaganda and other untoward influences, a total of 72 converts were baptized in our new Baptist mission at Harbin, Manchuria during 1925, practically twice the number that were baptised the year before. This cheering news comes from Rev. Chas. A. Leonard, missionary. There is no question that the Lord stands ready to bless his work on every field. Southern Baptists are loosing an excellent opportunity for greately extending the Kingdom of God in not providing more liberally for all their general organized work.

That plaintiff is the owner of 120 acres of land out of the T. J. Chambers grant, Milam County, Texas conveyed to him by A. L. ARE YOU ALL RUN DOWN

Many Cameron Folks Have Felt That Way.

Feel all out of sorts?

Tired, achy, blue, irritable?

Back lame and stiff?

It may be the story of weak kidneys!

Of toxic poisons circulating about upsetting blood and nerves.

There's a way to feel right again.

Help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic.

Doan's are recommended by many Cameron people:

Mrs. T. U. Smith, 903 North Milam Ave., Cameron, says, "Colds always settled in my kidneys and sometimes when I bent over, severe catches went across my kidneys and it was no small matter to straighten. I also had steady, bearing down pains through the small of my back and felt all tired out. After using one box of Doan's Pills, I was soon entirely cured."

RAYMOND DEES

W. A. MORRISON EXPLAINS LAWS GOVERNING SCHOOL AFFAIRS TO TRUSTEES.

than 500 scholastics. This includes every district in the county except Rockdale and Cameron.

The ballots must be printed by the county judge, and distributed by him, together with the other election supplies, at least one day before the election, and the ballots must be printed on white paper with the words Official Ballot Of School District Number ——printed thereon, giving the proper name or number of the district, and containing the names of the candidates thereon.

The local trustees must furnish ballot boxes in which to place the ballots and other election returns, but they should be sealed and certified as in general elections. Cigar boxes or other like receptacles may be used.

Candidates For Trustees

Any person desiring his name printed upon the ballot as a candidate for trustee, must, at least 10 days before the election, file a request with the County Judge in writing asking that his name be printed upon the ballot.

Five or more resident qualified voters of the school district may request that any name or names of persons to be printed on the ballot as candidates may be made by filing a written request with the County Judge, but this writing request must be filed at least five daye before the election, because the county judge is to have the ballots printed five days before the election.

It will be seen that where a person files his own request in writing with the county judge, it must be done ten days before the election, but if five or more qualified voters of the district request that the names of a certain person or persons be printed on the ballots as candidates, this written request can be filed five days before the election.

If no names are furnished to the county judge and printed on the ballots, then the voter can write the names of the person or persons, as the case may be, on the official ballot, but it must be used in all events. Additional names may be written thereon and the printed ones scratched.

The county judge must, at least one day before the election, deliver to the presiding officer of said election, in sealed envelopes which shall not be opened by the officers of the election until the day of election, all the ballots, poll lists and tally sheets to be used in the election.

The expense of the election shall be paid out of the general funds of the county.

The order of election by the county judge will show the number of trustees to be elected in each school district.

The election shall be held under the general election laws of this state, and the qualification of voters will be the same as in general elections, but the election returns shall be made to the county judge, and the election returns canvassed by the commissioners court, and the ballot boxes and the ballots shall be preserved for three months.

Qualifications of School Trustees

No person shall be a trustee who can not read and write the English language intelligibly, and read and comprehend and interpret the school laws of Texas, and who has not been a resident of such district for six months prior to his election, The trustee may be either male or female.

The law makes it a duty of the county superintendent to refuse to recognize any person as a trustee, even though he has been elected, who does not have the foregoing qualifications, and it shall also be the duty of said superintendent, within 20 days after such election, to make request of the county attorney to bring a suit for the removal of any such unqualified trustee.

Opening Polls

The polls must be opened at 8:00 in the morning, and kept open until 7:00 P. M.

Pay Of Judges

The judges and clerks of the election shall each be paid $3.00 per day, a day consisting of ten hours, and 30c per hour for each hour additional devoted to the election, and one of the judges shall deliver the returns of the election immediately after the votes have been counted, and in addition to his other compensation, shall be paid $2.00 for that service provided the polling place of his precinct is at least two miles from the court house, and provided also that he make return of all the election supplies not used when he makes the returns of the election. It seems that if the polling place is less than two miles from the court house, the judge making the returns of the election is not entitled to this extra $2.00.

(This is my individual construction of the law, providing for the amount of compensation to persons holding the election, but there is some controversy in reference to it, and the matter has been submitted to the Attorney General for solution.)

County School Trustees

The county board of school trustees is composed of five members, one from the county at large, and one from each of the four commissioners precincts.

This year there will be elected one member from the county at large and one from Commissioners Precinct No. 1 which includes Ben Arnold, Burlington, Buckholts, Fox, Corinth, Sandy Ridge, Marak, North Elm, Vogelsang, Walker's Creek, Watts Switch, Yarrelton, South Elm and Bryant Station. And one member will be elected from Commissioners Precinct No. 2 which includes Cameron, Salem, Currie, Clarkson, Jones Prairie, Baileyville, Belmena, Ad Hall, Elm Ridge, String Prairie, Branchville and Caddo.

The law requires that these persons be of good moral character, able to read and speak the English language, and to be persons of good education who are in sympathy with the public free schools.

The election will be held on the same day and by the same officers conducting the election for the district trustees, but there will be two separate ballots. The member of the board elected from the county at large will be voted for by all of the common school districts and the independent districts having less than 500 scholastics, but the one elected from the commissioners precinct No. 1 will be voted for only by voters living in that commissioners precinct, and the one elected from commissioners precinct No. 2 will be voted for only by the voters living in that commissioners precinct.

Each single school is the subject of the greatest importance possible in any community. No school can be more efficient and successful than the people, of the community to whom it belongs, desire and determine to make it. To accomplish this, one of the essential things to do is to elect trustees who have the desire and patriotism to labor unceasingly for the upbuilding, encouragement and efficiency of the school.

A school is a local enterprise, and it can never serve its full purpose without the full co-operation of the people to whom it belongs.Therefore, select and elect your own trustees. You know better than the County Board of Education who in your community is best suited for such position of honor and trust.

The Cameron Chevrolet Company has completed the sale of a fleet of Chevrolet motor trucks to the McLane Company in Cameron for use in their use in distribution of groceries to the territory. It is said that a fleet of Chevrolet trucks for Cameron is an unusual recognition for cities of this size.

Joe Middleton, manager of the company here, reports an increasing demand for Chevrolet trucks and believes that this year will be much larger in point of sales than any year in the history of the business.

Tuesday a representative of the Campbell-Ewald Co., advertising Chevrolet cars, was in Cameron. A big campaign of newspaper advertising is planned for 1926.

"I was ill and had to stay in bed under treatment for about two weeks without any improvement in my condition, which was serious," says Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, R. F. D. 7, Brookville, Ind.

"I had intense pain in my side. I was so nervous and weak and just out of heart. . . .

"After taking one bottle of Cardui, I felt like getting up. My nerves seemed steadier and I didn't feel so weak. I kept up taking Cardui and was soon feeling like my old self. . .

"I am such a believer in Cardui until when I get nervous and weak I take it. I took it before my children were born. It strengthened me and helped my nerves.

"I took a cold and . . . my back felt so weak and I had such pulling pains. I took Cardui and didn't have any more trouble.

"I fell and broke my arm. The fall shook me up and made me very nervous. I told them Cardui would help that, and it did."

CAMERON WOMEN TO CHAPERON GIRLS CAMP

Mrs. L. Van Perkins and her sister, Miss Lou Davis of Cameron will be chaperons in a camp for girls next summer near Kerrville according to recent articles appearing in the state papers:

Austin, Texas, Feb. 17.—On a wild, mountainous tract of 1800 acres located in the hill country 18 miles southwest of Kerrville, 75 Texas girls this summer will range, gathering strength and energy from "back to nature" life. These girls will live at Log Cabin Lodge, and will be under the guidance of 13 Texas women, most of them well known high school teachers. Miss Minnette Thompson, instructor in English in Houston Central High School, will be camp director.

Eight roomy log cabins, built from logs gathered from the tract on which the camp is located, will house the girls. A large two story log building will serve as headquarters for the staff of directors, as administration building, as a hotel for the fathers and mothers of the girls who may care to visit, and as a dining hall. A nine-hole golf course, a large stable of thoroughbred horses, and electric lights supplied from the camp's own plant will be other features.

Doc Stewart Owner

E. J. (Doc) Stewart, head Texas University football and basketball coach, conceived Log Cabin Lodge for Girls, and it will be run under his ownership. For the last two summers, Stewart's Camp for boys, located on a 27 acre tract one mile west of Kerrville on the Guadalupe River, has been a big success, with the enrollment in 1925 being double that of 1924. All indications are that in 1926 the enrollment at the boy'e camp will exceed 200. The number of girls has been limited to 75 for Log Cabin Lodge.

Each camp will open June 15 and close August 10. The camping season will be divided into two four week terms, the first ending June 12. Mrs. W. N. James of Austin, wife of Bill James, assistant Texas University football coach, is handling all applications for places in the two camps. No one younger than 10 or older than 21 may attend.

For several hours each day the boys and girls will be given academic instruction, if their parents so desire. Dr. Henry C. Evans, a teacher in Columbia University, New York, will have charge of teaching the boys, and Mrs. W. W. Crofoot, registrar of Austin High School, will direct the studies of the girls.

Those Who Will Go

Following are the women who will live with the girls at Log Cabin Lodge: Miss Thompson, camp director; Mrs. Crofoot, dean of the summer school work, and the following instructors, Mrs. Miriam Cooper, Galveston public school music teacher; Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Fort Worth High school teacher; Miss Marcella Walker, Amarillo high school teacher; Mrs. Joe Ward, Wesley college teacher; Miss Lou Davis, Cameron High school teacher; Mrs. H. G. Wilson, Amarillo; Miss Anna Epps, Brownwood; Mrs. L. V. Perkins, Cameron; Mrs. C. Wilkinson; Mrs. W. N. James, Austin and Miss Thelma Dillingham, Austin.

In Stewart's camp for boys, athletics, rather than woodcraft, will be stressed. A nine-hole golf course, a number of tennis courts, a baseball diamond, a basketball court, a cinder path for track sprinters, a football gridiron, and any number of swimming holes in the Guadalupe River will be available. To direct activities of the boys there will be a large number of coaches, headed by Stewart.

Directors of the Camp will be Stewart, Doctor Evans and C. S. Simmons, director of athletics at Houston Central High School.

Broadcasting station KTHS, Hot Springs, Arkansas, operating on 374.8 meter wave length, 1000 watts, will dedicate their unique Arkansas Traveler Special Train program to railroad employes and their friends throughout Radioland by holding a telegram prize contest Sunday night, February 28, giving a twenty three jewel white gold ball standard railroad mans watch to the fan whose telegram is drawn from all telegrams received by the station during the week of February 21 to February 28.

It will not be necessary to hear the program Sunday night, but telegrams making some mention of the ball watch only are eligible.

This is purely a telegraphic contest. Letters, cards and calls will not be included.

Please assist in advertising the program as much as posible so that a heavy telegraphic file can be developed.

A Matter of Conscience

There should be no reproach after the last flower is placed at the foot of the pale, white figure—no misgivings for little details neglected, for the last services unwittingly mishandled.

The last tribute should be paid in a fitting manner—by a professional entirely capable. Our twenty-seven years of experience testify in themselves to the fact that sympathetic, tactful consideration of those in sorrow is only a small part of our share in your last personal service.

You may call on us for suggestions—in the full assurance that a kindly consideration will be exercised in all your expenditures.

BAYLOR CHORAL CLUB COMING TO YOE HI

Baylor College Choral Club will appear at the Yoe High School auditorium Thursday evening, March 4, at 8:00 o'clock.

The program is varied; has secular, sacred and poular music.

The program which the Choral Club will give includes numbers selected to please every musical taste. Mrs. Allie Coleman Pierce, for the past six years director of the club, and the one who is credited with being largely responsible for the unique position the Club now holds among like organizations of the Southwest, has undertaken a more ambitious program this year than ever before.

Mrs. Pierce has attempted to present a program so varied that it will appeal to everyone, and at the same time be music of the highest type. The program which has been constructed after the accepted standards of program building, includes classics, novelties and a variety of song pictures.

In accordance with the custom of past years the Club will enter the stage singing the College song "Old Baylor is Marching". Group 1 will consist of two numbers, "In The Garden," and the "The Wreck of the Hesperus." The first of these numbers is an arrangement of the German Folk song by Schuman, which is loved for its equisite simplicity. This number like every other number on the program, is sung in English but the translation is especially good for clear pronunciation and a delicate whimcallity of interpretation.

In direct contrast with this is the second number, Cuthbert Harris's short sonata. This number combines dramatic thought, clear description and a heavy climax. It has been likened in many instances to Schubert-El-King. Piano solos, violin solos, and readings are interspersed between the ensemble numbers. Virginia Marrs, violinist appears first, playing Himsky-Karsakoff's "Hymn to the Sun," and Mozart-Kreisler's "Rondo."

The second choral group brings the more popular airs from the well known operas presented in costumes. These presentations are offered in the hope that they will not only interest the students in the higher forms of music, but also as an evidence of the fact that in Baylor College Conservatory the higher ideals of music are constantly kept to the fore. Selections from four operas are offered, "Madame Buttrefly," "Carmen," "Delilah," and arrangements from the "Sexette from Lucia." Misses Aileen Bland, Eloise Rogers, Marjorie England, Avis McGinnis, Marion James and Martha Moore are members of this sextette. Miss Helen Sale will next be presented in a piano solo, Liszt's "Trantella."

The fifth group consists of three numbers sung by the sexette. The first is "The Land of the Sky-Blue Water" by Cadman. This is a rythmic melodic expression of the old-time Indian folk song. Following the Cadman number there is Drigo's "Serenade" which is a favorite with the violin. The third number is Roger's clever description "The Two Clocks." The last group is made up of four songs selected from popular skits of the current year. They include "The Merry Miller," from Rob Roy, "Night," "Sentinal Sally," and a skit from Kid Boots called "Let's Do and Say We Didn't."

As every program is planned with a desire to have the interest of the public aroused by the last number, the chorus with Mrs. Allie Coleman Pierce, the director as soloist, will present "Inflammatus" from Stabat-Mater.

The last number is "Greeting to Spring" by Strauss, but is more commonly known as the "Blue Danube Waltz", having been given several years ago, it is again a part of the program this year by many requests.

This concert is being sponsored by the Senior Class of Yoe High School. Miss Eloise Rogers is President of the Choral Club and is an ex-member of our class.

Tickets are on sale at the Palace of Sweets, the admission price is students 35 cents, patrons 50 cents.

MARRIAGE HIGHER THAN CIVIL STATUTE

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 20.—A higher law than civil statutes—the law of humanity: self-preservation—dissolved injunctions and obliterated jail bars here today in favor of Albert Hedrick, prisoner, and Lucile Wilson, who have been trying for weeks to marry.

The court of civil appeals dissolved an order enjoining the marriage and in no uncertain terms declared that marriage was an inalienable right not to be interfered with by judges, sheriffs or prosecutors.

Hedrick is held on a statutory charge in which Lucile, who is only 14, was to be used as chief state witness. The state has tried to prevent the marriage, because as Hedrick's wife, the girl could not testify against him.

Tangled love affairs of the couple involved a court injunction, a threat to take the girl to the State Training School for Girls at Gatesville, and an alleged secret marriage through the jail bars.

The district attorney today stopped the first attempt at marriage by obtaining the injunction, which also included an order to turn the girl over to the juvenile authorities. Several weeks after this, the couple announced that they had been married when a minister read a marriage ceremony to the girl at home and then read the the ceremony to Hedrick in jail, pronouncing them man and wife. Court action dissolved this marriage, but only after the girl's mother had attempted forcibly to take the girl from the juvenile officer. Hedricks attorney appealed to the court of Civil Appeals, which today issued an order commanding the authorities "to permit appellants, if they desire, to be married in the Dallas County jail.

Lucile expressed elation when she heard of the order and said she intended to marry Hedrick in jail. He is a brother of her step father. The three civil appeals judges rendered an opinion, which said:

"Notwithstanding that the marriage might interfere with the criminal prosecution of Hedrick, their relief as prayed for in the petition for an injunction should have been granted for the sake of society and a higher law than civil statutes.

"The human family cannot have its foundation to the right or reproduction, by which it must maintain its existence, swept down in the interest of criminal prosecution."

POWER COMPANY WILL RELIGHT CITY CAMERON

INTEREST EVOKED IN PLAN TO GIVE CITY BETTER BRILLIANCE DISPLAY

Cameron people will be interested in the plans of the Texas Public Utilities Company to improve the street lighting system.

Recently the company had a survey made by their service engineers and a blue print made looking toward replacing and relocating of street lighting equipment for the streets.

The high power lines to be brought into the city from Temple now under construction will assist greatly in the brilliance of the lights.

It is proposed to relocate street lighting and to use a different equipment so as to faciliate briiliance and to eliminate all poorly lighted sections of the business district and elsewhere.

This change of service to the city, this paper is informed, will be without expense to the city and in line with the enlarged program of service proposed by the new company now operating in the city.

Work on the substation is going forward and the new power line is several miles out from Temple on way to Cameron.

Mrs. Alfred Walston and her sister, Mrs. Holman Reid of Tanglewood, visited Mrs. Prentice Redfield in Waco this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sapp of Hillsboro motored to Cameron Monday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sapp.

BILIOUS SPELLS

Kentucky Man Finds Relief from Dizzy Attacks.

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky.

"I would have dizziness and couldn't work.

"I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated.

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything.

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of 'pep' and could do twice the work."

Made from pure, medicinal roots and herbs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for such symptoms as the above, when due to a torpid liver.

A. & M. COLLEGE NEWS

College Station, ex. Feb. 23. Think of feeding 2300 healthy, hungry boys three times a day. That's just the task that confronts W. A. Duncan, Director of Subsistence at the A. & M. College of Texas who has charge of the College Mess Hall. Three hot meals a day for 2300 men who are hungry, who want good food, want it well cooked and well served; that is a big assignment. It has been Mr. Duncan's daily assignment for more than five years. However, he believes in new ideas and modern equipment and from time to time calls in food inspectors who can assist him in the further development of the Mess Hall. R. T. Ellfritz, manager of the Adolphus Hotel, Dallas, and F. R. Williams of the Rice Hotel, Houston, spent several days at the college this week making a detailed inspection of the Mess Hall system and physical plant, with the view to making suggestions that will lead to improvements.

College Station, Tex. Feb. 23. Dr. Liberty Hyde Bailey of Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, perhaps the most outstanding agricultural writer and educator in the United States, will deliver the Baccalaureate address at the fiftieth annual commencement exercises at the A. & M. College of Texas.

A wire from Dr. Bailey, announcing his intention of accepting the invitation to be the chief speaker on June 2, was received by president T. O. Walton, of the College.

Colege Station, Tex. Feb. 23. Investigation of marketing conditions in the Rio Grande Valley to make definite outlines for the development of progressive and stable marketing is to be undertaken at once by the Agricultural Experiment Station system of the A. & M. Colegle of Texas. The committee, representing 26 communities in the Rio Grande Valley, has invited the Experiment Station to make this investigation of their local marketing problems.

George L. Crawford, marketing specialist of the division of Farm and Ranch Economics of the Experiment Station, and a former district agent for the Extension Service, will handle this project. The work will be taken over the latter part of this month, and has been made possible through the recently passed Purnell Act. The purpose of the project is the investigations of the factors influencing the marketing of winter vegetables of the Rio Grande Valley: to determine the kinds and amounts of vegetables produced: the preparation of these vegetables for the market, taking in the harvesting, grading, packing, processing, storing and financing and the foreign and domestic competition met; the selling agencies employed and the marketing methods used. It is planned to secure the desired information regarding the situation through contact with growers, railway officials, private firms, local buyers and bankkers, and others. Upon this information such changes as to warrant an improvement in conditions will then be recommended.

"Not only is the Experiment Station System conducting the work with the viewpoint of improving production methods, but we must help and secure for the farmers greater returns for labor and investment," declared Dr. B. Youngblood, director of the Experiment Station, in announcing the establishment of the work in the valley.

THE ASSOCIATIONAL B. Y. P. U.

On Saturday evening, January 30, a group of about 150 young people from over the county met at Cameron church and perfected an Associational B. Y. P. U. organization. Bro. J. A. COMFORT

"God never would send you to darkness
If he felt you could bear the light;
But you would not cling to his guarding hand,
If the way were always bright.
So he sends you in the blinding darkness,
And the furnace of sevenfold heat;
'Tis the only way, believe me,
To keep you close to his feet.
For 'tis always so easy to wander,
When our lives are glad and sweet."

THE SECRET OF SERVICE

To one who asked him the secret of his service, Mr. George Muller said: "There was a day when I died, 'utterly died;'" and, as he spoke, he bent lower, until he almost touched the floor, "died to George Muller, his opinions, preferences, tastes and will, died to the world, its approval or censure, died to the approval or blame of my brethren and friends, and since then I have studied only to show myself approved unto God."

A Great Year ~ A Great Car ~ and Lower Prices

1925 was the greatest year in Dodge Brothers history.

More than a quarter of a million Dodge Brothers Motor Cars were built and sold, yet demand was far in excess of production—and continues to mount.

To meet this world-wide need for a smart and dependable motor car, Dodge Brothers, Inc. have recently completed a $10,000,000 program of expansion, vastly increasing production and lowering the cost of manufacture.

Remarkable new machine equipment has also been installed—further reducing costs and perfecting quality.

As a result Dodge Brothers, Inc. were enabled on January 7th, to announce a schedule of prices that has revolutionized all previous standards of motor car value.

Prices all the more impressive because they apply to a dependable and trusted product made still better in many vital respects—

Engine operation incredibly smooth and quiet.

Instant engine response and elasticity.

Stylish new bodies finished in rich and distinctive colors.

Exceptional driving vision.

And the most important advance in steel body construction since Dodge Brothers pioneered in building the first all-steel body.

THE SERVICE OF ADVERTISING

Advertising has become so much valued that people look to it as a regular service which they need before they attempt to buy any line of goods. They dislike to start out to buy things, unless they have previously made a study through the advertising of what stores are offering.

Advertising has improved so wonderfully that it has become a kind of directory of market offerings. It spreads before the people in each newspaper issue a story of business conditions. You can read it and find out what kind of goods are being bought, what the styles and fashions are, what kind of service the people are demanding, what suggestions the merchants have to offer as to meeting household and personal demands.

Also you are thereby enabled to keep in touch with the trend of prices. While some merchants could make their advertising a little more convincing if they quoted prices more freely, yet so much information is given about prices that the buyer can get a good idea of what things cost in the great majority of lines.

The customer for any line of goods starts out to make purchases with a much clearer idea of the situation in that line, if he or she has been through the advertising in the newspapers. In that way people can save the cost of subscription to a newspaper a great many times over.

People who read advertising faithfully ought to save several hundred dollars during a year in the expense of running a family. Where without advertising information they would probably have bought the first high priced article that was offered them, after informing themselves in this way they have an idea of the price that ought to be paid. No one can afford to fail to read the advertising published in The Cameron Herald.

PUTTING HEART INTO WORK

It is commonly remarked that if the people who are employed as wage-earners would work with the same earnestness as if they were in business for themselves, the production of the country would be largely increased, and everyone would be a great deal better off.

To this it is replied, that the reward for such enthusiasm seems so remote and uncertain, that many workers lack the incentive to throw themselves into labor in that way. They feel that if they did make such additional effort, they would not be at all sure of getting any reward for it.

What is needed then; say the economists, is some plan in industry by which the workers will feel sure that they will get the result of any etra effort they make. To meet this situation, many concerns have tried out forms of profit sharing, with more or less success. But many wage-earners do not feel much interested in such schemes. They would rather have their money in their pay envelopes and know each week what they are getting.

The employers say that the idea of partnership with their workers may be all right theoretically, but that if a true partnership is to exist, the wage-earners should share losses as well as profits, and they are not willing to do so.

Here we have the greatest industrial problem of the times, to induce the workers to show the same enthusiasm in their tasks that people used to manifest in the old days when most of them worked for themeselves, or when the employes were so closely under the eyes of their employer that they were pretty sure to be rewarded for special diligence. The concerns that make the most effort to solve that problem, and try to think out plans for promoting loyalty and enthusiasm among their workers, are likely to be the ones that will make the biggest gain in the coming years.

HIGH PRICES

Some people seem to think that in settling industrial controversies, the question of the price paid by the public is a rather unimportant consideration. But it can not be thus set aside. Back in 1920, people went ahead and pushed their prices without regard to the interests or the rights of the public. But the results was that a wave of indignation swept over the country.

We had overalls parades, buyer's strikes, etc. The result was a general refusal to buy goods on the part of millions of people, and largely as a consequence of this feeling business depression set in. The producers must all the time consider whether the price they are asking for goods will create a popular revolt or not.

Prices are still a good deal below the level prevailing in 1920, but they have shown some disposition to advance of late, which may be ominous of trouble. This may be largely due to the fact that agricultural products are as a rule somewhat higher than they were, which may be inevitable owing to the special needs of the farming class.

In the anthracite coal controversy, the effort has been made to establish the principle that the price to the consumer must not be permitted to go any higher. It would be well if the same principle could be made to apply to all lines of production. The consumer is paying all he can afford to now. Many classes of consumers, the farmers in particular, are paying a good deal more than they can afford to.

The idea seems to be held by certain groups of wage-earners, that if their employers are making too much money, their wages should be advanced. This may be called for in some cases. But as a rule what is needed most is to get prices down, which would benefit all classes in the community, and place business on a more secure foundation.

THE WEALTH OF TEXAS

It is hard for a human mind to conceive the gigantic figures of the statisticians, but when we say that something has a value of ten billion dollars, we know that it is sure enough worth while.

Ten billion dollars! Ten thousand million dollars! That is the wealth of the Lone Star State.

Bringing the figures down closer to the individual, we find that the wealth per capita is $2,010. And this is not all.

In the past seventy-five years, the per capita wealth of Texas has taken a jump of over seven hundred per cent. Of wealth of the state, real estate and improvements account for almost sixty per cent.

The more the men who spend their lives dabbling in statistics look toward Texas, the more they find that they are dealing with a mighty commonwealth. The citizens of this state are beginning to realize that they are a part of a great and tremendous organization, whose resources are unparalleled in history.

GO TO CHURCH

There is no doubt but what the world is progressing day by day; yet, there is one old fashioned habit on which we should all keep a steady hold. That habit is the Go-to-Church habit.

With golf links and baseball games and movies and radios all becokoning us away form our Sabbath meeting, there has been created in re- a great many people. But we must realize that cent years a tendency to shirk this duty among a town's greatest assets are its churches and its schools, with the churches ranking first. You should not only consider it a duty to attend services, you should think of it as a privilege.

It may be that some who read this would not miss a service for the world; but those of you who do not attend, just think it over. If you could use a little more enlightenment, try going to church next Sunday. We sincerely believe you would find something you have been missing.

THE RESISTANCE OF THE BUYER

There are many who complain about high prices of commodities and yet they have not themselves done anything in the way of resistance to such prices. They growl and groan, but they pay the prices asked. Sometimes they clamor for the government to fix prices, so that they shall not get too high.

The buyers of commodities usually have the situation somewhat in hand, if they are willing to use their power. They exercised it recently in the anthracite coal strike. Instead of clamoring for the government to intervene with some action that would probably have resulted in an increased price for coal, the great majority of them quickly looked around to see what else could be burned in place of anthracite.

So millions of them tried out various substitute fuels, and on the whole got along comfortably. The result was quite different from what some expected. It was believed that the public would raise such a great outcry, that the government would have to interene, with very doubtful results.

In 1920 when prices of most commodities got too high, the people simply got angry and cut down their purchases to the limit. The result was unfortunate in many ways, but it showed that the buyers have a great power when they decide to use it.

One of the ways in which buyers can use their power over prices, is to watch newspaper advertising to see what merchants are willing to shade the prices the closest. If people exercise their power as purchasers skilfully, they can check price advances to a large extent, and encourage those who are willing to do business on close margins. The people who pay whatever price is asked of them without some effort to find out where the best bargains can be had, are the ones who help maintain prices at a high level.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

The people in a modern town expect certain conveniences that promote comfort. They look for parks, playgrounds, lighting and water systems, good streets and sidewalks, etc. and street railway or bus service if the community offers opportunities for such transportation business. The use of so many automobiles is calling for a new form of equipment, that of suitable parking spaces.

A city like Cameron needs to look over its equipment in these respects, and compare the same with communities of the same size. It does well not to be satisfied merely with what the average town has. It may well look to the more progressive places, and try to make itself equal to them in these respects.

GIVES DATA ON USE OF CROP FERTILIZER

A. F. MITCHELL PRESENTS FORMULA OF INTEREST TO MILAM FARMERS

The following data and formula have been presented by A. F. Mitchell, county engineer, on the use of commercial fertilizer.

This information will be of interest at this time because of the cotton contest and the wide spread agitation for increasing soil fertility:

Experience has shown that the best time to apply commercial fertilizer is at the time of planting or not over three weeks before planting, except in large amounts of over 600 pounds per acre. For large amounts or on deep sand, where plant food is liable to leach out, it is advisable to make a side application of a part of the fertilizer.

The following suggestions for the use of the recommended formulas in Texas were adopted at a meeting July 25, 1923, of Agronomists of the Experiment Station and Extension Service, County Agents, the chemist of the experiment station, representatives of the agricultural press, representatives of fertilizer manufacturers, and others interested. The formula listed first is probably the one most generally needed in those parts of the state now using fertilizers largely, chiefly in east Texas. It is best for those not experienced in the use of fertilizers to begin with moderate applications and increase the quantity as experience is gained and fertilizers are found profitable.

The recommendations given below represent the best present information and will be modified from time to time, as more eperimental data are accumulated, and further practical experience is secured.

Cotton

Loam soil with clay or sandy clay subsoils, such as susquehanna, Lufkin, Orangeburg, or similar soils. If 200 to 400 pounds are used 12-3-0 or 10-4-2 or 10-4-0; if over 400 pounds are to be used, 10-4-2 or 12-3-3.

Deep sandy soil, such as norfolk sand. If 200 to 300 pounds are to be used, 12-3-3 or 12-22 or 12-4-4; if 300 to 400 pounds or more are to be used, 12-3-3 or 12-4-4 or 8-4-4. However, these are not good cotton and corn soils and are better adapted to vegetables.

Land which produces an excessive stalk and does not fruit well, chiefly bottom land, use 200 to 400 pounds of 18 per cent or 16 per cent acid phosphate.

Black waxy, such as Houston black clay or other heavy black limestone soils of Central Texas. A legume rotation is needed most of all. Fertilizers are uncertain. A trial may be made of 200 to 300 pounds of 10-4-0 or 12-4-4, or 100 to 200 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 100 pounds acid phosphate and 100 pounds nitrate of soda.

Hunters Catch Two Timber Wolves Here.

Penn Wolf and David DeGraphenreid of Chilton on two hunting expeditions last week caught two timber wolves with their Walker hounds.

The first wolf was caught on the Crennon ranch near Burlington and the other between Milano and Chriesman in the timber lands. Each chase was of about 8 hours duration. In all 25 Walker hounds took part.

The many dog fanciers throughout the state will regret to learn that White Stride recently sold to a Kentucky breeder in a recent chase became entangled in a wire fence and lost one of his hind legs. The great hound in is said to be one of the best dogs in America.

THORNDALE TO DEVELOP MINERAL WATER WELL

COMMERCIAL CLUB GETS BEHIND PROJECT TO DEVELOP SULPHUR WELL

At a called meeting of the Thorndale Commercial Club Monday night the clu bformerly indorsed the effort being made to finance a corporation to develop one of Thorndale's most valuable natural resources, the Culver Mineral Well by erecting a system of bath houses equipped with tubs and shower baths and all necessary accommodations, together with a plot of land sufficient to accommodate tourists or others who wish to spend several days here to take baths and use the water from this already famous well for medical purposes.

The well was originally drilled by M. A. Culver and associates while prospecting for oil, and a great volume of artesian mineral water resulted. The well has been flowing for more than six years and during this time the water has been repeatedly analyzed by competent and reliable chemists and pronounced rich with mineral properties very valuable and beneficial for medical purposes, especially for external application. Many local people have given the water from this well a thorough test for skin diseases, rheumatism, etc., and quite a few people have come from distant towns to get this water. These distant visitors have also reported most excellent results from the use of the water and claims made in these unsolicited reports are so similiar that it has attracted the attention of doctors and others who know the values of mineral waters in the treatment of diseases of various kinds. This in turn has brought inquiries from various points over the state, including Dallas and other cities concerning the well and requesting the analysis of the water or a sample of it.

A few enterprising men of the community have realized the great importance of this well as an asset to Thorndale for some time but to finance the project was the problem remaining unsolved. Now, as the "heap big Indian" would exclaim under similiar circumstance, 'Eureka' —we have found it! The financial difficulty has been solved—at least the plan endorsed by the club is feasible, safe and fundamentally sound, fair to all, and the Thorndale Commercial Club has agreed to do all in its power through individual subscriptions of stock in the company by its members acting on their own initiative, of course, and by all moral support the Club can give it.

A stock company will be formed and stock at $1 per share will be sold to finance the project. Pending the time when all the money needed to finance the system is raised the money received for stock, a receipt for which will be given, will be deposited in the local banks in escrow to remain there subject to the call of the purchaser of the stock, to be returned to him if and in the event the whole amount of the money needed is not raised within one year. It is estimated to take about $6,500 to complete the plans as drawn. The plans call for three main buildings, two bath houses, one for ladies and one for men. Each bath house will contain two rooms with bath tubs and two with shower baths with a dressing room for each separate apartment. The office building will provide a rest room, an attendant's quarters as well as the business office. Complete details can be had on application to Wm. Taegel, who has been appointed trustee and directing head of the enterprise, who will be glad to answer any and all questions courteously and completely.

In this connection Mr. Taegel requests that all who have tried this water for any purpose and found it helpful to please communicate with him and furnish him a statement of what they think of it as a helpful agent in relieving their suffering of trouble of whatever nature. This request is asked that he may be prepared to furnish correct and true information as to the merits of the water for medical purposes. PAID $1,600.00 FOR A $10.00 JOB

If you were to walk into an office of any business man, lay sixteen crisp hundred-dollar bills on his desk, and in a matter of fact voice say: "Will pay you $1600 for a $10 a week job," he would, in all probability, ring for the police.

Nevertheless, only a few months ago Miss Betty White resigned from just such a job and as nearly as she can figure it, she paid about $1600 for the privilege of holding that job for two long years. Furthermore, there are thousands of young men and women who are doing the very same thing. Perhaps you are one of them, or, without realizing it, are thinking of becoming one of them soon. If you are, this story may save you several years of hard work and worry and several hundred dollars.

"Just before Christmas during the season's rush of 1922, although I was in my Senior Year in high school," writes Miss White, "I decided to give up my school work and get a position. One of the local stores was in need of additional help on their sales force, as most stores do just before Christmas. I found it an easy matter to land a place behind one of the counters. I was to be paid ten dollars a week. By rare fortune, I was kept on the sales force after the rush season, and I stayed on the job two whole years. It was useless to think of a raise in pay, for there were hundreds of young women eager to take my place. Each week I insisted on paying my mother $5 for my room and board. The other five I spent for lunches and a scanty supply of clothing.

"A year ago I gave up my job and enrolled for a busines course. I borrowed the money to go through with it. Today on my first position, I am earning $25. a week. If I had entered Tyler Commercial College when I left high school, I might have had this position two years ago. In those two years, even if I had received no increase in pay, I would have earned $2600. During the two years in the store, I earned a little more than a thousand dollars. I actually paid in lost salary $1600 for my $10.00 job."

Just such a coupon as given below has given many young people their start toward a real achievement. If you clip and mail it filled out, "Achieving Success in Business," a large book will be sent to you free. The book will show you the way to a higher position, one with opportunities for advancement, one which any of the courses of Tyler Commercial College will fit you to hold. The Tyler Commercial College Employment department is at your service when you complete the private secretarial, general business, general banking, general civil service, general Western Union, general cotton classing, radio, bookkeeping, shorthand (either the Bryne Simplified or Gregg systems), pennmanship or business administration and finance.

Mail the coupon Now for the big, helpful book. It is free.

The third number of the Home Lyceum Course will be given at the Yoe High school auditorium Friday evening at eight o'clock.

This program is in charge of Miss Louise Berry and she has arranged a good program for the evening. Miss Berry will read the Great Divide in three acts.

Miss Berry will be assisted by some of the leading students in the high school.

YOEMEN DEFEAT ST. EDWARDS

Monday February 15, the Yoemen played the St. Edwards Quintet on the Lawless Green Athletic field. The final score after a close battle was 16 to 13.

The Yoemen got the south basket and then the fireworks began. From the start to the finish of the game, fast and hard playing was in evidence. The score at the end of the first quarter was 6 to 2 in the Yoemens favor. Hertenberger, who had been playing stellar basketball, was relieved by Childress. Childress began the game with his famous old time fighting spirit. The half ended with the score 10 to 6 in favor of the Yoemen.

The second half was played as fast as the first and at the end of the third quarter the Yoemen were leading again by the score of 13 to 9.

Hertenberger was sent to relieve Horstman who had played a good game. St. Edwards tied up the score before the whistle blew. A period of five minutes was played to play off the tie and the Yoemen, through gallant fighting rung up a foul and a goal before the final whistle blew.

Childress, Triggs, Fikes, Reichert, Hertenberger and Horstman all played excellent basketball.

The Seniors are rapidly becoming the "peppiest" class in school. The Juniors have been left far behind while the Freshmen run a bad second. Look back over their conquests; the football class championship, winners of the stunt night, a treasury filled to overflowing; the most A grades and the least number of F's.

There is no denying the Seniors have the students and all it needed was the help of their sponsors to bring out the winning spirit. This they did with such a degree that we now have the pep fire and fight necessary to win.

SENIORS WIN PICTURE IN STUNT CONTEST

The Seniors are the possessors of the picture which was given as a reward to the class which offered the best program last Friday night, Feb. 12.

The first number on the program was submitted by the Juniors. It consisted of the miracles worked by Rina Mitra the famous Hindu conjuror and magician.

The act which took the blue ribbon was in the form of a debate entitled: "Resolved dat dere are Goses." This act was given by the Senior Class.

The Freshmen and the Sophmores gave excellent programs. Hon. Billie Wallace of the Freshman class was so sure that the Fish would win the picture that he had already had his speech of acceptance written out. He will probably be asked to give that speech in chapel thanking the judges and apologizing to the Seniors.

LET THERE BE NO REGRETS, FISH!

An interview with one of the judges of the Stunt Night program brought to light the interesting fact that the Freshmen would have undoubtedly won the prize IF they had not had too many stunts. It seems strange that such a reason as this caused the downfall of the Slimes. The judges all admitted that the Freshmen showed more talent. We are satisfied.

THOSE GOOD OLE HOLIDAYS

Did the Seniors celebrate George Washington's birthday? Well I should say yes. They went on a treasure hunt.

At 9 o'clock the Senior class, with Miss Mary Lake Henderson, a Senior sponsor and eight mothers of the Senior class met at the Yoe High to go on what everyone thought a plain picnic, but lo, they were to seek for a treasure. Every car was filled with Seniors and then a envelope with "Pardon Me, Madam" written on it was handed to the driver of each car. Inside was a small verse giving the slightest clue as to where the treasure might be found. Some mention in the verse of the "barred way" suggested the jail and so everyone rushed there and after the pass word, "Pardon me, Madam" had been given; another envelope that spoke of the farm not over the hill, was handed the driver, and so, on and on to one place then to another until the little white messenger carried the happy group to the Henderson home where the treasure was found, a chest of chocolates, for the lucky car that reached there first.

Then everyone went to the country club where forty two, dancing, stunts, and games made the morning pass before it seemed to have begun.

The mothers served a delicious, two course lunch, "nothing could be sweeter."

The party disbanded with joyous shouts and fifteen yells were given for Henderson, mothers and Seniors.

The Seniors declare that nothing has ever been put on that was more successful or created more pleasure than did this Treasure Hunt.

SOPH PICNIC

The Sophs seemed to have realized that their last day was drawing near so about two weeks ago they proceeded to celebrate, puite a bit. They had a regular class picnic, at 4:30 on the day set, the happy group of students, chaperoned by Mr. W. S. Sterling, Miss Juanita Caldwell, Mesdames Susie Jenness and J. T. Howard, left the school ground.

Many cars were necessary because it is believed by the sponsors that more Sophs participated in this affair than ever before. Several misfortunes such as flat tires, etc, which occured on the way out, caused them to welcome the first camping place that they came to, which happened to be several miles southwest of Cameron.

The lunch consisted of weenies, and pickles.. Of course the boys made the fire and expected the girls to roast the weenies and marshmellows in return, but, to their disappointment the lunch prepared by the girls proved rather undesirable for many of the weenies were burned while many of the marshmellows had been rolled in ashes, The only thing left for the jellies to do was to relieve the girls of the tiresome task and try their own hand at it. Well, all of the food was eagerly devoured just the same and everyone enjoyed it. Some of the students danced and the others chatted while Sterling tried his hand at hunting.

Dear subscribers, the only reason that the Sophs have to offer for not having told you of this pleasant occasion before is that "Dead people can't tell tales" (and as you all know Perkins buried the "Dead Class" the following week) and since their resurrection, February 12, they have been too busy enjoying the expression on Hon. Perk's face since they told him the opinion that the angels had of him. Poor fellow.

Is it an honor to have a great number of jelly beans in a class? I guess it must be because Perkins said that we Sophs had more jellies in our class than any other class in school and it must have been a compliment because "Perk" said it and to the class that tries to be an honor to "Yoe-Hi" the Sophs.

SOPHS CURRENT EVENT CLASS

The 9-A History Current Event Class, which was organized several weeks ago, furnished a very interesting program last Friday, under the direction of Miss Cornelia Gunn. Several lectures were given by different members of the class; Kate Maples, Restoring the churches attitude on Prohibition; Luther Bryant, The League's for 1925; Marguerite Walden, How The Whitehouse Became A Glass House; Oma Graham, Topics in Brief; Elizabeth McDermott, Martha Washington; Mittie Lou Howard, Jokes.

After the first five lectures were given Miss Elizabeth McDermott appeared, playing the part of Martha Washington. She told the life of Geo. Washington in first person, telling every detail, which added greatly to the interesting biography. Miss McDermott made her audience feel as if the real Mrs. Martha Washington was really and truly present, speaking to them.

The last number was remarks from the clown, Miss Mittie Lou Howard. She related many interesting and side splitting jokes. To add interest, Miss Howard gave every member of the class a small souvernir in the shape of George's hatchet, and a frozen cherry. Miss Howard informed the class that the cherries were the same ones that came from the tre that Go. Washington cut down with his hatchet.

Unfortunately the cherries were so large that they made each member of the class just a little dumber than before. For the rest of the period many witty remarks were written on the black board for it was utterly impossible for the dumb class to speak Their jaws were locked. What peace for Miss Mary Lake.

One of the Sophs received a very interesting letter from Wilbur Crawford. Here is his opinion of the new "country" and the "old" home-town: "This would be a fine country if it would only stay still. We had a light breeze going about ninety miles an hour yesterday and I thought it would blow this country off the map, it is still here. The wind was so strong that it took two men to hold a wagon sheet over a key hole.

I am sure getting tired of this country, I wouldn't give a dime for all of it when there is a chance to see good old Cameron. The school is fine but I have a strict teacher.

CRACKS IN CLASS

Miss Mary Lake—William make a sentence about Euripedes.

William—This morning when I left home my mamma told me, "You rippa dose britches and I'll tan you."

M. M. L.—No, why?

Vernon S.—I just wanted to see her about five minutes.

Mr. Lacy had just drawn a picture of a telephone when Thomas Graves spoke up,—Is that a loud speaker?

M. L.—No, there's not but one loud speaker in the room and that's you.

MORE AUTOMOBILES NOW THAN TELEPHONES

Two million more motor cars than telephones are now in use in the United States, according to statistics published by the Western Electric Company, whose census shows 17,740,236 motor cars in operation as against 15,369,454 telephones—in other words 100 hundred motor cars for every 86 telephones in this country. In France, the situation is still more interesting.

MRS. H. N. TATE'S CLASS PICNIC

The Wilson Ledbetter Park was the scene of a merry picnic Monday afternoon. The members of Mrs. H. N. Tate's Sunday School class and friends left the Methodist church about three o'clock and hiked to the park where they played games, gathered wild flowers, kodaked and swung on grape vine swings until Mr. and Mrs. Tate called them to a courteous picnic spread which was pronounced the finest ever enjoyed. Tired and happy they returned home about five-thirty that afternoon. Class members are Ann Graham, Katharine Hefley, Geraldine Lindsey, Ella V. Tate, Sarah Turner, Nettie D. Tate, Pattie Fairleigh, Julia Mae McCollum, Maurine Luce and Foldine Rylander. Among the guests were Mr. H. N. Tate, Earl Newman Tate, Prothro Deere, Guy Slocomb, Loreta Evans, Goldie Wilson, Eula Key, Florence Ledbetter, Imogene Sapp and Eddie Graham.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

Members of the Senior Class of Yoe High School enjoyed an exciting Treasure hunt and a delightful party at the Country Club on Monday, Feb. 22.

At nine o'clock in the morning the class met at the Yoe High building. The treasure hunt as planned by their sponsor, Miss Mary Lake Henderson, was directed by oracular messages and correct passwords which were delivered at each station by the hostesses at the various homes visited. Envelopes containing clues and passwords were delivered to groups of class members in ten automobiles as they merrily chased each clue over town in gay emulation to find the treasure: at nine a. m. they began with 1 st pass word—"Pardon Me, Madam."

Clue

"The place will be barred
To make escape hard
So, once inside
Do not abide
Just ask for the next pass card"
(This was the jail.)

2nd pass word was "Poor Old Robinson Crusoe."

Clue

"You do not go over the hill
But a farm is near
If you pay every bill
You'll never live here."
(Poor Farm.)

3rd pass word—"Two of a kind make a pair."

Clue

"A little grey home in the west
Where "Two chubby birdies will aid in the quest."
(Mrs. K. K. Robbins home.)

4th pass word—Bat, Bat, come under my hat And I'll give you a piece of bacon."

Clue

"This house is found
On the edge of town
Thru a lane of trees
A fine home one sees
A park is near
For goats (not deer)
Just drive through the gate
And the pass word state.
(R. L. Batte Home)

5th pass word—"Yes sir, that's my baby."

Clue

"The house is big, the yard is wide
With stately cedars side by side
Just ring the bell, the password tell
And if you're first then all is well.
(T. S. Henderson Home)

Here they got the treasure, a box of Whitman's "Treasure Island candy.

George William Triggs, Loring Beard, Nora Adams, Reed Rogers and Mr. Keeling were in the group who were successful in finding the treasure. The box was handed over to Reed Rogers, the first to give the password, "Yes sir, that's my baby" at the Henderson home. The end was exciting as others were very close with the proper credentials.

After the chase all repaired to the Country Club where they were divided into groups and charades representing Childhood days, school days, college days, courtship and marriage were acted out in costume. Billy Newton's group playing college days were first and the wedding scene with Sue McLarran as the bride was voted a close second. A grand march was led by the class officers followed by members past the cafateria where a salad plate with sandwiches, potato flakes, stuffed eggs, pickles and maple nut ice cream was served by a group of the class mothers, Mesdames R. P. Jeter, Lena Baskin, Albert Triggs, Wm. Rogers, Clarissa Collier, Lottie Bigbee, W. R. Newton, A. C. Hughes and W. A. Morrison.

The class president, Clyde Yarbrough, in an eloquent tribute to the class sponsor, Miss Mary Lake Henderson, thanked her for the party and expressed their gratitude to the mothers for their kindness and called for cheers for the sponsor, the mothers and for the class of 1926.

HOW THEY BUILT THE PYRAMIDS

DID you ever stop to wonder how the ancient Egyptians constructed the pyramids with only the power of human muscle and the low breed of animal power then available? It is believed that the huge stone blocks, each weighing more than fifty tons, were transported on rollers from the banks of the Nile, where the stones were landed after being cut from the hills miles distant. As the first layers of stones were laid for the Great Pyramid, the workmen built an inclined roadway to the higher levels. On the completion of the Great Pyramid, it is estimated that this inclined roadway extended more than a mile from the pyramid and reached the top of the structure, which raised its apex nearly 500 feet above the surrounding plain. Historians calculate that 100,000 men labored for thirty years to construct this one memorial to their ruler.

How crude, we say, were the methods of the days of old. They were slow and ponderous, indeed, entailing a tremendous loss of man-power. Today, with the progressive advent of power, modern workmen could construct a pyramid in a few weeks—changing years of work to months, or less.

Electric power is the power which is bringing more progress to the world. The new State of Texas is standing on the threshold of development with all of the hundreds of years of experience of the ages back of it—a baby in the most scientific age known to mankind.

Electricity can be applied to almost everything you do. Make use of it in your business and your home.
